I notice the newspaper has deliberately put spaces in the hyperlinks in the article (even spelt one wrong) - might want to ask them why when you next speak to them Lucy, but it is sure to be the 1 to 0 link ratio between our sites, and their own sites Google positioning.

Good publicity all the same. Well done again! x

I did notice Tim Hopefully people will still find us by typing any format of William Aldridge Foundation into Google :)

It's more likely to be a typo though x
